

Sony Centre for the Performing Arts - Restoration and Signage

Location Toronto, Ontario
Designer/Architect Page + Steele Architects
Duration Oct 2009 - Oct 2010

Scope - Soheil Mosun Limited was contracted to restore all bronze doors, hand railings and pickets, interior and exterior window mullions throughout the Sony Centre for the Performing Arts. All Cherry wood veneer panels and doors in the theatre were completely restored or replaced where needed. Signage throughout the facility was fabricated out of bronze plate.

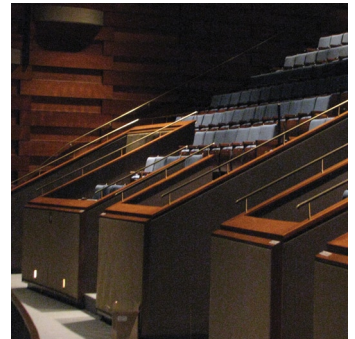

Highlights - 189 bronze doors were brought back to their original lustre while casings were restored in-situ. As well, 1016 bronze handrail pickets, 1700 cherry wood panels and 1500 rosewood slats were restored by hand. Bronze window mullions throughout the entire theatre were also restored to their original condition. The theatre logo is waterjet cut solid 1/4" bronze.
